

Some News About
Bad Subject — Taxes
The Poor Pollster

It's not the most pleasant of subjects for a householder caught in the backwash of bills from Christmas but I have a note here about income tax returns.

If your figures indicate you have a refund coming on the March 15 settlement mark in bold letters on the face of the envelope in which you mail your return the word "Refund." It takes months for the federal workers to sort over millions of returns, and that's the word "Refund" on your envelope will speed things up in the sorting mill.

Of course if you're just being optimistic, nothing you write — either on the envelope or inside it — will help you.

As a matter of fact, I read in an AP dispatch Sunday that we'll be paying a little more income tax this time than a year ago. At first it sounded like one of Harry Truman's bluffs at like; but it's really true. The gimmick is this: The federal income tax was boosted late in 1951, taking effect November 1 of that year. So folks settling up 1951 taxes on March 15, 1952, paid at the new rate for only two months. But this time you'll pay the higher rate on the full 12 months of 1952.

So by March 15 the fact that some taxpayers don't like us will be overshadowed by the growing certainty that most Americans don't like tax-eating foreigners. Not a very charitable remark, but it's about what you get in any post-war period. And the words would be louder and sharper if we were absolutely sure this is a postwar — not a prewar — period.

Now that the presidential election is over the pollsters have to go far afield to find public questions that will justify their existence. This week-end George Gallup — he couldn't call the turn on Eisenhower's record-breaking landslide — comes up with these conclusions:

1. Three-fourths of the American people want to abolish national political conventions and pick the presidential nominees by direct primaries.

2. Two-thirds of the folks also favor shaking up the Electoral College, making each state's College vote divide according to the popular vote within the state.

So says the pollster — but someone else "coming along right behind him and quizzing the same people would no doubt discover that their knowledge of American history is no deeper than today's newspaper.

We've already swept too far away from the original idea of 48 separate states, and while the march toward a centralized federal government has gotten us a lot of spending money it has also produced the greatest debt on earth, the highest taxes Americans have ever had to pay, and kept us constantly involved either in war or threat of war.

Not all of this could have been helped, but neither has all of it been necessary. There is an axiom around business houses that every time you take on a new hand you've increased your costs by twice his salary — one more mind to think up spending schemes, one more voice to involve the house in trouble.

Under the Roosevelt-Truman regime we sent legions of salaried federal folks all over the earth for a "look-see" — and I note that in these closing months some of the Truman small-fry have dashed over to Europe for one last look. They'd probably have us in another war by now if foreigners didn't know the election score.

We started off with the greatest government in the history of free men. Don't let it degenerate, under the guise of "democracy," to the sad state of France — where every citizen talks, nobody listens, and they've had 17 governments since World War II.

Garrett Makes Changes in County Shops

Hempstead County Judge U. G. Garrett today announced several changes in the county shop and road system. He also indicated that a telephone is being installed at the county warehouse.

Arthur Anderson will be in charge of the Judge's office at the courthouse. Mr. Anderson, deputy clerk, served in that capacity under former Judge C. Cook.

Bill Fincher will be county shop foreman and head mechanic with Chester Cobb as bridge foreman and Jeff Johnson as road overseer. Joe Gentry will work both in the field and at the warehouse as a coordinator and maintenance man. Operators include Bernard (Happy) Dunn, former city policeman who resigned effective January 1, Otis Fuller, Elgin Moses, Hal Good, Orville Allen and Burton Stuart.

Says Filibuster Rule Change Will Be Beaten

By EDWIN B. HAAKINSON

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Ellender (D-La.) predicted today that a projected move to revise Senate rules so as to make it easier to halt filibusters "will be beaten by better than a 2 to 1 margin."

The test may come tomorrow or the next day. The Senate, after organizing under Republican control Saturday, recessed until tomorrow.

Sen. Taft (R-Ohio), new GOP leader, apparently was in position to cut off debate and obtain a quick test at any time he wishes. Taft Saturday persuaded opposing sides to delay until Tuesday the start of their dispute over the issue, the ancient Senate custom of unlimited debate.

In the past, Southern Democrats have used this as a weapon—called the filibuster—to talk civil rights measures to death.

The old rule covering the point says that Senate debate may not be limited unless 64 of the 96 members vote to do so. Backers of civil rights legislation contend it is virtually impossible to get the votes of 64 senators to limit debate.

Congress Is Dealing With Assignments

By WILLIAM F. ARBOGAST

WASHINGTON (AP) — Members of the new Republican Congress concerned themselves principally today with committee assignments while waiting for tomorrow's ceremony which will formally declare Dwight D. Eisenhower elected as president.

The Senate and the House, which convened and organized Saturday, will meet jointly tomorrow to tabulate the electoral votes and officially declare Eisenhower and Richard M. Nixon the next President and vice president of the U. S. The meeting will be held in the House chamber.

Except for the likelihood of a Senate rules fight, the outcome of which was pretty much a foregone conclusion, and the receipt of several messages from the expiring Truman administration, the new 83rd Congress will then most likely mark time until Eisenhower is inaugurated two weeks from tomorrow.

This Is Time of Year When a Man Starts Looking for That First Robin to Arrive

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — This is the season when the average man would trade a future year in a future heaven just to see the first robin of spring fly into his backyard right now.

It is the winter of our discontent. The last carol has been sung, the Christmas tree is burnt, and the bright baubles that decorated it now hide in the darkness of the closet.

There is a false cheeriness in the mailman's "hello" as he stamps up the walk. He knows there is nothing but bad news in all those envelopes he brings — envelopes with windows.

The pages on the calendar say the year is fresh and new. But the calendar is a liar. The calendar of the spirit says the year is old and tired and shabby — just about the way the average man feels himself.

The party-giving is over. Now comes the letdown. He feels the heavy hand of time upon him. The personal woes he shrugged away during the holidays perch again on his shoulder and whisper into his ear: "Looky, we're back. Did you miss us?"

Everyone he knows seems to be packing for a gay vacation in Florida, in Arizona, in California, in Cuba. But no luxurious sea cruise for him. Nope. Just the long voyage to work on the 7:15 bus — and the long voyage home on the 5:45 bus. That is, if the buses are running at all.

Club Officers to Hold Training Meet Wednesday

The Home Demonstration Club officers training meeting will be held in the Hempstead County courthouse Wednesday morning at 10 until 11 a.m. All Home Demonstration club officers are urged to attend this meeting.

Mrs. Dorothy Price, District Home Demonstration Agent, Little Rock, will attend and will assist the presidents and vice-presidents with parliamentary procedure and how to conduct a good home demonstration meeting.

Paul Jones, local newspaperman, will assist the reporters in writing up Home Demonstration club reports.

Lorraine Blackwood, Home Demonstration Agent, will assist the secretaries in getting their books set up for the coming year.

Full Impact of Bus Strike Is Being Felt

NEW YORK (AP) — The first full impact of a five-day old strike tying up 3,500 privately owned buses hit New York City today.

It threw a heavy load on subways and city-owned bus lines during the morning rush hour but they absorbed it without great difficulty.

The strike against the city's eight privately operated bus lines for a 40-hour week and wage improvements began on the stroke of New Year's. Because of the long holiday weekend, its full force was not felt until today.

A staggering of school hours helped lessen the rush hour burden. High Schools, except those on Staten Island, did not begin classes until 10 a.m. Junior high school pupils who ordinarily ride subways were permitted to be late to classes.

Mrs. Marshall Succumbs at Home in Waldo

Mrs. Fred Marshall, aged 48, the former Artie Ottwell of Nevada County, died Sunday at her home in Waldo.

She is survived by her husband and four brothers, Belton Ottwell of Fulton, Bascom of Magnolia, Watson of Waldo and Robert Ottwell of Hope, one sister, Mrs. W. C. Stinnett of Chidester.

A. B. Banks, Banker of Fordyce, Dies

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Banking and insurance executive A. B. Banks, of Fordyce, died at a Little Rock hospital Saturday.

Banks was a former president of the American Exchange Trust Co. at Little Rock and founder of the old Home Life Insurance Co. and the Home Fire Insurance Co. and the Home Accident Insurance Co.

He is survived by his widow, a daughter, three sons and a sister.

GOP Leaders Have Hope for Tax Reduction

By REX CHANEY

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Republican leaders of Congress today held out some hope of tax relief this year. But they were not making any promises.

Their "maybe" attitude was summed by House G. O. P. Floor Leader Charles Halleck of Indiana. He told a reporter that tax cut legislation will get the green light if — and only if — Republican strategists are convinced it won't jeopardize a balanced budget.

Halleck and other influential Republicans reaffirmed their belief that the "first order of business" must be to cut federal spending enough to balance the government's income and outgo. Only then, they said, can Congress afford to cut down on the income by reducing taxes.

Most GOP leaders realize that merely balancing the budget — without any decrease in taxes — will be a formidable job for their party to accomplish during its first year in power.

Court Hears Arguments in Contempt Case

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Arkansas Supreme Court today heard oral arguments in a contempt of court case involving Ft. Smith attorney G. Love Grant and eight members of a labor union.

The nine were sentenced in Sebastian Chancery Court in connection with alleged violation of an anti-picketing order. They appealed to the Supreme Court.

The case grew out of a strike of AF of L Paper Mill Workers against the Dixie Cup Co. at Ft. Smith in 1952.

The chancery court issued an order forbidding the union to interfere with the operation of Missouri Pacific and Kansas City Southern switching movements in connection with its picketing activity.

Later the union members were cited on allegations that they had violated this order and after a hearing Grant also was cited for contempt. Both the lawyer, who was the union's legal advisor and the union members themselves, denied the contempt allegations.

Grant was fined $500 and sentenced to 30 days in jail but the jail sentence was suspended.

Union member Charles E. Stewart was fined $200 and sentenced to 30 days in jail.

Union member Allen Jones was fined $50 and fines of $10 each were assessed against the remaining defendants, Arthur Logan, Millard Davis, John Pettyjohn, Russell Clymna, Wanda Davis and Wanda Smith.

John Deere Day Set for Tuesday

Frank Walters, local John Deere dealer, has announced January 6, at 7:30 p.m. as the date for this year's John Deere Day program. Free to farmers and their families, the program will be held at City Hall and is scheduled to begin at 7:30 p.m.

The feature picture, "Paradise for Buster," is a comedy and stars Buster Keaton, popular clown of stage and screen. The story is that of a small bookkeeper in a large firm who suddenly comes to the notice of the firm's head in a most uncomplimentary manner. His rare knack for getting in trouble does Buster in and out of every scene and furnishes some exciting moments for him and his audience.

Other films included on the program are "Tom Gordon Goes Modern" the story of the new John Deere Models "50" and "60" Tractors; "Costly Bargains," a picture showing how the quality of John Deere parts is maintained; "Oddities in Farming," consisting of scenes of rare farming practices; and "What's New for 1953," unveiling the complete lineup of John Deere equipment for the coming year, showing this equipment at work in the field and demonstrating briefly all outstanding features.

Mr. Walters, in his announcement mentioned that the program is free to all farmers and their families.

Dodge to Have Broad Powers as Budget Chief

By MARVIN L. ARROWSMITH

NEW YORK — An associate of President-elect Eisenhower said today that Joseph M. Dodge as federal budget director will have perhaps unprecedented authority in shaping fiscal policy.

This associate, who asked not to be named, talked of Dodge's role as Eisenhower made ready to meet with four Republican senators — William F. Knowland of California, new chairman of the Senate GOP Policy Committee, Hugh Butler of Nebraska, Guy Cordon of Oregon and Arthur V. Watkins of Utah.

Eisenhower headquarters said each of the senators had asked for an appointment and that arrangements had been made for them to come in together. The headquarters said it had no advance information on why the lawmakers wanted to see the general.

Work Resumes on Docks as Strikers Relax

NEW YORK (AP) — Normal longshore work was resumed at New York piers today after striking dock specialists relaxed picketing tactics which had threatened an East Coast shipping tieup.

Cessation of picketing — with a few exceptions — was ordered by the strikers after an eight-hour session with federal mediators had failed early today to bring about a settlement of the dispute.

Hundreds of longshoremen went to work at their usual time this morning. Weighing and sampling of bulk cargoes was not under way immediately by the striking specialists.

Churchill Says Korean Resistance Lessens Danger of Third War

Sen. Ferguson to Head Senate Probers; Hiss Selected UN Employes, Documents Reveals

By G. MILTON KELLY

WASHINGTON (AP) — Well-placed sources said today Sen. Ferguson (R-Mich.) will command Senate investigations subcommittee "task force" hunting for Communists in the government and the United Nations.

The sources, declining to be named, said Sen. Williams (R-Del.) may abandon his lone-wolf role as a sleuth for scandals in the Internal Revenue Bureau to head another of the group's task forces which will investigate that agency.

There was no immediate comment from Williams.

The informants said announcement that Ferguson will take the post "will signal the official decision to shift the Senate's Communist investigation out of the hands of the internal security subcommittee" on which the Michigan senator was the senior Republican member.

The investigations and internal security subcommittees have been vying for assignment as the Senate's official Red-hunters.

Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.), who will head the investigations subcommittee, and Ferguson told a reporter it was too soon to make any announcements.

Another State Department document, McCarthy said, showed Alger Hiss "had initial control over selection of employees of the United States delegation." Recent Communist probes have been aimed at U. N. staff members but not at employees of the American delegation.

Hiss, now in jail for perjury, was convicted of lying when he swore he had not passed secret documents to a Communist agent. As a State Department official, he was prominent in the development of the U. N.

Board to Rule on Loyalty of Vincent

By JERRY T. BAULCH

WASHINGTON (AP) — The question whether diplomat John Carter Vincent shall continue in the foreign service has been handed to a five-man board especially created to examine his loyalty anew.

The board was set up late Saturday by President Truman, who said he agreed with Secretary of State Acheson that a further examination was called for in the case of Vincent, long a target of Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.), and others, who have accused him of Communist leanings.

The government's top Loyalty Review Board found reasonable doubt of Vincent's loyalty and recommended that he be fired. In an exchange of memoranda made public by the White House, Acheson said he could not "in good conscience" make a final decision because the board's report was, in his words, confusing and inconclusive.

Among other things, the board cited what it called Vincent's "studied praise" of the Chinese Communists and criticism of Chiang Kai-shek's Chinese Nationalist government in the early 1940s.

Vincent, 53, a key figure in shaping U. S. Far Eastern policy in those years, was suspended by the State Department after the loyalty board findings were announced Dec. 15. He was called home from Tangier, where he was U. S. consular agent.

Vincent, a veteran of 30 years in the diplomatic service, said there was no doubt in his mind about "my absolute and constant loyalty to the United States." Earlier, he had denied any Communist affiliations.

The new board will be the third group to consider Vincent's loyalty.

The State Department's own board announced last February that Vincent had been fully cleared of charges questioning his loyalty and whether he was a good "security risk." The security clearance, involving whether he might let out government secrets, was not subject to re-examination was the loyalty clearance.

The board will consist of retired U. S. Circuit Judge Learned B. Hand of New York, chairman; John J. McCloy, former high commissioner for Germany; James G. Thompson, former director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation; and two other members.

Not in Favor of Extending War to China

By GEORGE CORNELL

NEW YORK (AP) — Winston Churchill came to the United States today and said resistance to Communist aggression in Korea had helped lessen the danger of a third world war.

The British prime minister also spoke up against an extension of the war in Korea because of the danger in Europe.

"We think it would be a great pity for U. N. armies or for United States armies to wander all about this vast China—that isn't the real center of gravity," he said.

"The real center of gravity is in Western Europe—in front of the Iron Curtain."

The British prime minister arrived aboard the Queen Mary for talks with President-elect Eisenhower and President Truman.

Wearing a brass-buttoned, national outfit and smoking a cigar, Churchill told newsmen who mobbed him aboard the Queen Mary that the real significance of Korea was that "Soviet aggression has been resolutely and fully confronted."

"That has been the greatest event of the past five years," he said.

Churchill declined to say what he would discuss in his meeting with Eisenhower—probably tomorrow — but declared there was "nothing extraordinary" about it.

To questions from approximately 200 newsmen, the prime minister indicated that Britain wanted a lowering of American tariff barriers so she could earn her own living with trade, not aid.

Declined to comment on any possibility that he might meet Soviet Premier Stalin.

Evaded questions as to whether he would support a blockade of Red China.

Declared Britain's first atom bomb "went off beautifully." But that Britain was not getting the "full information" promised by the late President Roosevelt on atomic matters.

Highly praised President Truman for having taken "great and valiant decisions, which have made us all feel better."

Said he had no details of Gen. Douglas MacArthur's "clear and definite solution" for ending the Korean war.

Father Unable To Attend Mary's Funeral

DES ARC, Mo. — A nationwide search is being pressed by the FBI, state and county police for the 42-year-old father of a brutally murdered Mary Wolfe who was buried here yesterday.

In Detroit, Mary's father, Jesse J. Brown, technician of the county artificial breeding association, said he was unable to attend funeral and burial services for the 5-year old child because he didn't have enough money to train or plane fare.

Last February, Wolfe gave Mary to Mr. and Mrs. James W. Head, both charged with first degree murder in the death of a daughter.

"They had a fine reputation and they offered to care for the child until I was able to do myself," said the young widow.

Wolfe was told this week of the death of his child, who was burned and battered body was covered from a rain-filled tank in the flood farm last Tuesday. Coroner's jury has returned a verdict of death by drowning in the hands of persons or persons known.

Mrs. Head, who is being held in a Des Arc jail, is quoted as saying her husband beat the child's her unconscious body to death.

been screened under the new Mc-
Carran-Walter Immigration Act,
Churchill quipped:

"I was told I was okay."

Churchill was met aboard ship
by financier Bernard M. Baruch, who will be his host in New York.
They went to Baruch's home after the prime minister's 25-minute press conference. A spokesman said Churchill had no engagements outside the house today.

The prime minister had this to say concerning Korea:

"Nobody likes a prolonged stalemate, but there are worse things than a stalemate—there is a checkmate."

In chess, a checkmated king is one that has been attacked by his opponent and cannot escape the attack. That ends the game; the checkmated king is defeated.

"We know how you feel about the immense contributions you have made in Korea—a dozen times more than all the rest of us put together."

"But you must not look at Korea only for what is happening there—but at the fact that Soviet aggression has been resolutely and fully confronted."

"This," he said, "has done more to improve the chance of world peace than anything else."

As a result, he said, the possibility of another world war has receded.

When the first ocean cable was laid between England and France in 1850, it was unsuccessful because the cable broke too easily, but in 1851 a cable strong enough to carry the word was successful.

DOROTHY DIX

Fleeting Hope

Dear Miss Dix: Perhaps at my age I should be able to solve my own problems, but another's opinion would be helpful.

Two years ago I went with a gentleman. We were both separated at the time. Then he and his wife decided to try it again, so as far as I was concerned, that was that! Last year they broke up again, and he was sent overseas for his firm. While he was gone he wrote and asked me if I would write to him, which I did. Then his wife asked for a divorce; he returned to this country, and we spent some time together. One day he said he had an appointment with his wife's lawyer and would call me the next day. That's the last I have heard from him. I got in touch with the woman at whose house he had been boarding, and she said she hadn't heard from him either. I know he cares for me, and my immediate problem is—should I write to him? He is 46, and I am 45, and I, too, am getting a divorce.

MIRIAM R.

Answer: The chief trouble with on-again-off-again romances such as yours is that, for the "other woman" at least, they seldom become definitely "on." I should think the man's sudden silence would be so obvious as to be self-explanatory, but apparently you are desperately clinging to any straw in hope that some other reason may be offered. Since his immediate objective after seeing you the last time was to consult his wife's attorney, some sort of reconciliation must have been effected at that meeting.

Husband's Dependency Too Deep

Whether it will be permanent or not is anyone's guess, but it is certain that the wife still exercises sufficient power over her husband to get him back from time to time. Their marital situation is too unstable that it offers little possibility for your romance to have a happy ending. Even if the couple were divorced, the husband's dependency on his wife is too deep for him to be a good mate to anyone else.

The most tenuous thread a woman can cling to is the glib promise of her lover to get a divorce at some always vague, future date. The number of women who have wasted good years waiting for the promise to be fulfilled is tragic. The lonely hours spent in futile waiting could be quite productive if devoted to finding, and pleasing, a worth while matrimonial prospect.

When future matrimonial plans involve double divorce, they incur a concomitant dose of double troubles.

It is very doubtful, Miriam, if your vacillating suitor will settle his domestic affairs to the point of coming back to you. Your age certainly doesn't mark you as a back number yet, you have intelligence and, presumably, attraction for the opposite sex. Forget the man, resolve your own affairs, then begin to think about your prospects of another man.

Dear Miss Dix: Three years ago my sister in law's mother passed away, and I haven't heard from the family since. As I have been very busy with my own family, I didn't apply any attention to their silence, but now I hear that they are angry with me because I didn't send flowers. Why I didn't, I don't know. My sister and I paid our respects by visiting and going to the funeral. I am very upset over the matter and wonder what to do.

A. D.

Answer: Since you paid your respects, and went to the funeral, you really covered the major amenities of the situation, and your sister in law should not be so hurt over your failure to send flowers. However, in time of bereavement, one is naturally more inclined to be sensitive than at any other time. It's quite possible that the breach caused by your oversight may never be healed. Even at this late date, a letter of explanation and apology may help ease the situation.

Dear Miss Dix: I am 10 years old and get an allowance of 50 cents a week. I do not want to continue taking this money because I think the family needs it for other things, such as a car. Mother thinks I should continue getting it.

K. S.

Answer: You are a very considerate girl to give so much thought to your family's finances. However your mother is trying to teach you how to handle money, and you should take the allowance and learn to use it properly. Cover as many of your expenses as possible, and save the rest. Maybe you'll save enough to buy the family a nice accessory for the new car you all hope to have.

Bright Shirt Saves a Life

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—A bright shirt saved 6-year-old Jimmy DePalma's life.

Jimmy and Roger Green, 8, were fishing from a canal bank yesterday when Jimmy fell in. He sank. Roger ran, shouting for help.

W. E. Finn, who lives nearby, said: "I heard the boy yelling and I thought he said something about a dog falling in the canal. I knew dogs could swim, but I walked over anyway."

"I looked into the water, and caught a glimpse of what looked like a brightly colored shirt about 10 feet under water."

Mediators Fail to End Dock Strike

NEW YORK (AP)— Federal mediators failed early today to bring about a settlement in a strike of AFL dock specialists, but their efforts brought some relaxation of picketing tactics which had threatened a major East Coast shipping tieup.

The mediators, after an eight-hour marathon session which started yesterday, said the union agreed to go back to work pending arbitration of the wage and contract dispute but that the employers rejected arbitration.
